Self-Pay & Out-of-Network Pricing

Sparrow Women's Health is currently welcoming self-pay patients while credentialing with several major insurance carriers is in progress. We look forward to expanding insurance participation as contracts are finalized.

During this credentialing period, visits and procedures are provided on a self-pay basis, with payment due at the time of service.

For patients with out-of-network benefits, we're happy to provide a detailed superbill upon request that may be submitted to your insurance company for potential reimbursement. Reimbursement amounts vary by plan and are not guaranteed.

We believe healthcare pricing should be transparent.

Understanding the cost of your care should be straightforward. We strive to provide clear, upfront pricing so you can make informed decisions about your health without unexpected surprises.
